NEWS,
Estancia, N. M.

Entered as second-class matter January 1, 1909, in the post-office at Estancia, N. M., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The farmers are very busy just now getting the seed into the ground. Some have already finished, but the majority are in the midst of their planting. The acreage put out this year will about double that put out in any one year heretofore, and with anything like a fair season, the crop will be enormous.

The publisher of any weekly paper in any town has the privilege of buying his groceries from Washington—Uncle Sam's home. The merchant of any country town has the privilege of buying his envelopes from Washington—Uncle Sam's home. While this is a privilege, isn't it wrong in principle when put into practice? Wouldn't it be better for the publisher to buy his groceries from his home merchant, and the merchant buy his envelopes from the publisher? It looks this way to a fellow up a tree—Western Publisher.

H Prophecy

If they keep putting suffragettes in jail over there in London much longer, says Harper's Weekly, it is dollars to doughnuts that the homely ballads of other days will soon be superseded by some such pathetic lyrical outburst as this:
O where is my wandering Ma tonight?
O where can my mother be?
She hid her fort to the Suffrage fight
And hasn't come home to tea.
The range is cold on the kitchen trail,
The cupboard is bleak and bare,
For mother has gone to the County Jail
For pulling the Speaker's hair!
O where is my wandering Ma tonight?
My Mother, O where is she?
She dwells in the "box,"
While Father's socks
Are holey as they can be!

—Holland's Magazine.

Some Bonny Beatitudes.

W. B. KERN.

Blessed is he who asketh nothing, for verily, he will get it.

Blessed is he who asketh everything, for verily, he will also get it—in the neck.

Blessed is the married man; if you don't believe it; ask his wife.

Blessed is the undertaker, for he always succeeds in that which he undertakes.

Blessed are the rich, for they don't have to go to jail.

Blessed are the poor, for they don't have to go to the senate.

Blessed are the old maids, for they can blame it on the men.

Blessed are the pace-makers, for they are always ahead of the game.

Blessed are the wire, for they say, "I told you so."

Blessed are the foolish, for they don't know it.

Blessed is the loser, for he can tell you how it happened.

Blessed is the Christian Scientist, for when he hears an old joke, it doesn't give him a pain.

Blessed are the mighty, for they get their names in the newspapers.

Blessed are the humble, for they can keep their out.

Blessed are the homely, for they look the part.

Blessed are the babies, for they always get a hearing.

Blessed is he who hath red hair; some have none at all.

Blessed is he who hath money to burn, for he won't have to buy coal.

Ladies! Call and see the new line of millinery goods, first door south of postoffice. Guinn & Rowe. 27-15

Notice.

During the month of March, I lost one of my herds of sheep containing 190 head, marked slash in back of right ear and crop the left; also marked with red paint "O" on the wool. The sheep were lost or strayed from the south of my ranch in the Gallinas mountains. Will pay a reward of $25.00 for reliable information leading to the recovery of the same.

April 3, 1909 Victor Lueras.

It is not yet too late to make a choice selection in spring hats at Guinn & Rowe's, next door to postoffice. New line just received. 27-15

The Thrice-a-Week World.

It always tells the News as it is, Promptly and Fully.

It has invariably been the great effort of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World to publish the news impartially in order that it may be an accurate reporter of what has happened. It tells the truth, irrespective of party, and for that reason, it has achieved a position with the public unique among papers of its class.

If you want the news as it really is, subscribe to the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World, which comes to you every other day except Sunday, and is thus practically a daily at the price of a weekly.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Estancia News together for one year for $2.15

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50
